The Chief Information Officer – Solutions and Partners 3 contract (CIO-SP3) is a government-wide acquisition contract for the next generation of information technology (IT). CIO-SP3 provides flexibility, speed, and access to all things IT, including data science and analytics, digital services, IT management, and cybersecurity. It can be used by any federal, civilian, or U.S. Department of Defense agency to fulfill mission-critical requirements.

Accelerate mission outcomes

Meet evolving citizen, workforce, and mission needs with the right mix of industry experience, technology, and strategic partners. Our experts understand your people, enterprise data, domain, workflows, and context. We combine that knowledge with technology expertise to create solutions that thrive in your environment.

Scaled Delivery. Our Digital Services Center (DSC) provides patterns for enterprise delivery including practices and tenets that can be tailored to your specific needs.

Agile Engineering. Combine engineering methods, processes, and tools with rapid prototyping to construct, maintain, and integrate platforms.

Rapid Implementation. Reduce implementation time, operating cost, and licensing costs to rapidly build agile applications that address unique business needs, span functional silos, and improve performance.

Advanced Analytics. Pair data expertise with technologies like machine learning and AI to inform decision-making and propel mission effectiveness.

Cybersecurity. Beyond Zero Trust approaches and cybersecurity, resilience keeps an organization's entire mission going, assuring its future, and protecting its people.
